Variety of programs offered

Debbie Rush and Charlene Rush) were winners in 1975.

Demonstrations and Illustrated Talks

These events provide the opportunity to share with others what one has learned in 4-H.

4-H'ers have a chance to demonstrate culinary skills, sewing skills, arts and crafts and others.

Illustrated talks are used when one doesn't have anything to actually demonstrate. A good example of this is talks on animals. This event helps 4-H'ers develop personally as they share knowledge and develop skills. 4-H'ers use visual aids in preparing and presenting their talks.

Public Speaking

For the past ten years, Farmers National Bank has been sponsoring 4-H Public Speaking in Appomattox.

4-H'ers have an opportunity to prepare a speech on a chosen subject and present it to an audience. This event gives the 4-Her a chance to develop his or her skills in writing as well as speaking in front of a crowd. More than 200 young people participate annually in this event.

EVEN DOGS CAN get interested in 4-H! Another fun event is the 4-H Dog Show which is held each year in May. The dogs are all divided into categories. The winners of each of the categories vie for the title, "Best in Show." Not only are the dogs judged, but the owners are also evaluated on how well they show their dog. This event is sponsored by Lawson Ford in Appomattox. The dog show is loads of fun for everyone. Shown above is Lawson Ford's Pat Lair presenting Luann Craig with the award for "Best in Show" at this year's dog show.

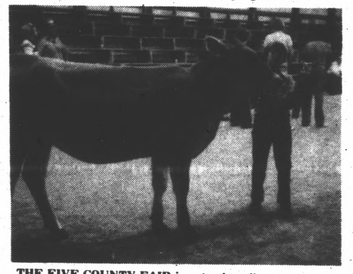
Adult volunteers a key to success

Adult Volunteer 4-H Leaders are the key to a successful 4-H program. Volunteers contribute many hours of assistance to the Appomattox 4-H program. These volunteers provide many additional learning opportunities for young people. 4-H leaders assist with community club programs, provide leadership for special project workshops, serve as volunteers at 4-H Camp, assist individual 4-H'ers with projects and special events, and serve as coaches and judges for special 4-H contests and programs.

4-H'ers would like to especially recognize the following 4-H leaders during National 4-H Week: Mrs. Kathy Whately, Mr. Michael Hancock, Mrs. Betty Bryan, Mrs. Gaye Stevens, Mrs. Elaine Stanley, Mrs. Janet Morgan, Mrs. Roberta Womack, Mrs. Cindy Thomas, Mrs. Margaret Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClenny, Jr., Mrs. Ruby Inge, Mrs. Anne Robinson, Mrs. Linda Thoma, Miss Pam White, Mrs. Doris Humphries, Mrs. Annette Alvis, Mr. Dennis Torrence, Mrs. Dora Turner, Mr. John Harrison, Mrs. Daisy Watkins, Mr. Ernest Humbles, Mrs. Lucy Haskins, Mrs. Susie Krantz, Mrs. Neal Patterson, Mrs. Carrie Turner, Mrs. Frances Gilliam, Mrs. Daisy Watkins, and all other adults who have assisted with 4-H programs during the past years.

Pictured above are Mrs. Betty Bryan, Mr. Michael Hancock and Mrs. Kathy Whately with special recognition plaques which they received at a recent 4-H Awards program.



THE FIVE-COUNTY FAIR is not primarily a 4-H event, but it is an excellent opportunity for 4-H'ers to become involved. Many Appomattox 4-H'ers take part in the Dress Revue, the talent show, and of course a number of exhibits: clothes, canned goods, baked goods, arts and crafts, vegetables, animals, etc. Also, the 4-H clubs prepare educational booths that are placed in the fair. Appomattox 4-H'ers exhibit over 300 articles each year in the Fair. Shown above is Zane Torrence and h is Brown Swiss champion bull.
